DR. CHANDLER NAMED HEAD OF CLARION S.T.C.

Awaits Confirmation By Governor
Earle and Dr. Ade

Dr. Paul G. Chandler, who has recently been called to be president of Clarion State Teachers' College, has been a very influential and beneficial member of Millersville's faculty. This appointment must be ratified by Governor Earle and Dr. Ade before Dr. Chandler may fill the position. He came to Millersville in the fall of 1927 to be a teacher in the Educational Department and the director of Saturday and evening work. During his ten years spent here, he has taught many subjects, including two English courses—modern novel and pre-Shakespearean literature—each of the educational courses at various times, and some time ago, a course in educational biology.

When the course in visual education was put into the State curriculum, he was assigned the duty of developing it at Millersville. Since he believed that education is too theoretical and not practical enough, he enjoyed working out practical visual aids for classroom teaching. In the past four years, he has been developing the Millersville film library which now contains 128 films and has a membership of 66. Dr. Chandler, although only supervising the work, attributes the efficiency of that library to the boys who have done the clerical work, namely: Ralph Shields, John Aderhold, and Robert Shoff. His N.Y.A. workers are now making a collection of all the free visual aids obtainable for classroom use. These are being filed in cabinets in the Visual Education Room for the future use of any teachers or students. Besides this work, Dr. Chandler has successfully coached the baseball team for the past two years.

Because he was the son of a Methodist minister, Dr. Chandler was moved about the country during most of his early life. He has lived in Millersville longer than in any other town; it, therefore,

The Bar Association of Pennsylvania is very desirous of having the students of all Pennsylvania Teachers' Colleges participate in this contest, and the Association urges the students of M. S. T. C. to do so. Prizes up to $1000 have been donated and will be presented to the students writing the four best essays. All you have to do to meet the entry requirements is write to Mr. Matson, chairman of the Standing Committee on American Citizenship of the American Bar Association, declare your desire to enter the contest, and ask for full particulars. The address is Charles E. Matson, Federal Trust Bldg., Lincoln, Nebraska.

EDUCATOR WILL LECTURE HERE FEB. 16

Will Discuss School Problems

In keeping with his belief that a school administrator should have a first hand knowledge of the schools he controls, Dr. Lester K. Ade, Superintendent of Pennsylvania's Public Instruction, will visit M. S. T. C. on Tuesday, February 16. As Dr. Ade is a firm advocate of a pleasant, cheerful informality in the school, his lecture should be interesting and entertaining.

In the Snapper of January 14, a complete list of the questions the superintendent will discuss was printed. Among the most important were: Will your school be child centered? Will you have free discipline? Will your school feature the "Work—Study—Play" plan? Will your school practice and allow student participation?

You have been asked and are being asked to briefly prepare yourselves to answer and discuss such questions as these. If you have any educational problems of your own, bring them along and get some expert advice from Dr. Ade.

Although he may not be here to present Dr. Ade, Dr. Tanger asks for your cooperation and for your attendance in Chapel on February 16.

EVERY THING READY FOR GALA BARN DANCE

Old Clothes and $1.25 Is Admission

"They'll be comin' round the mountain when they come. They'll be ridin' three white horses when they come." Maybe you won't be doing exactly that, but something like it if you come to the Day Student Barn Dance on February 13, 1937, in the College Gym.

Gather 'round you college swains and maidens if you want to hear about the Barn Dance. You must wear the very oldest clothes that you can find, and if you try putting on your "Fifth Avenue Swank" you'll feel like a duck out of water. Almost anything that just skipped the rag-bag on last fall's house-cleaning will be quite satisfactory. Overalls will be especially appropriate because this dance will be over all other dances this year.

Jimmie De Angeles and his orchestra will furnish the best swing music that has been heard in these parts of late. He has a band which will make some of the other swing bands sound like a bunch of hill billies. A large crowd should attend to help defray the expenses.

It will take just common horse sense plus a dollar and twenty-five cents to make you come to this dance. You may not have horse sense, but we know most of you have that amount of money. This is really dirt cheap considering the good orchestra you will hear.

Hay, straw, and other barn fixings will change the gym into more of a barn than it already is (if that's possible). There will be plenty of saddles around, but we promise not to take you for a ride.

Robert Ross and Anne Risse head the dance committee. Other members of the committee are Mary Jennings, Mary Clodfelter, Estelle Kurkowski, Kenneth Banzoff, and Edwin McCaslin.

"Did you ever see a dream balking"? Well, you won't if you take her to the Barn Dance.

CAMPUS COMMENTS.

Through the basketball games played at the Lancaster Armory, Millersville has gained the approval of Lancaster's sports fans. Heretofore local fans knew little of the real prowess of the Pucillo-men. Neither inclement weather nor the attractions of the Birthday Ball seemed to have an effect on the enthusiasm of 800 fans who came to our second game on the Armory floor. This is the kind of following our team deserves and can keep. . . . -By the way, we're sorry for that misleading statement in last week's Snapper . . . . Classes at Kutztown were dismissed at 2:15 o'clock for the game . . . . It may interest you to know that Kutztown beat Trenton by a few points. . . . That picture of our team in the Sunday paper was a much needed bit of publicity . . . . We are wondering whether those three proposed buildings will really be built . . . . The Day Student men will faint with joy when they have a larger Home Room. Off hand, there doesn't seem to be an available one, but before long something may be done. . . . This Barn Dance should prove a fitting climax to what we hope will be another victory for our team. It will be the first dance in many a week, so you surely can afford to come. If you don't know any femmes, some of these mid-year frosh look look pretty smooth. . . . -Your candid opinions concerning the new title head will be appreciated . . . . -and we'll see you at "The Barn."

CHAPEL

Normal Literary Society deserves much credit for the program it sponsored last week. What seems too good to be true is that Page is following right after with another grand program tomorrow. Such programs as these are just what we need. They are different, interesting, and modern. Is there any reason why they can't be continued? If the two literary societies have done this well, why can't other organizations do just as well or even better? Another fine feature of such programs is the fact that students officiate. That is what Millersville needs. Now that we've started something worthwhile, please keep it going.

SNAP SHOTS OF OUR BIG SHOTS

JOSEPH PENNINGTON

You all remember the debonair and masterful Crichton of our last Senior Play. Joe originally hailed from down North Carolina way, but he migrated to Quarryville some years ago, and graduated from the high school there in '32. In high school, as in college, much of Joe's time has been spent in dramatics, in journalistic pursuits, and in guiding the ship of state during his freshman and sophomore years.

M. S. T. C. finds him taking an active interest in Citamard players, competently managing the business angle for this year's Touchstone, and a member of Phi Sigma Pi. Joe was president of Roddy Scientific Society in his sophomore year, president of his Junior Class, and now, in his senior year, vice president of the Day Student Association.

Mr. Pennington is majoring in mathematics and science with intent to teach, but his interest in politics may win out in the end. He is following the General Motors strike very closely, for he feels that this is one of the biggest moves that labor has ever made to assert its rights. Sould the laborer share the profits of the company? Joe says that he should.

English Club Meets

Creative work of the club members will be featured at today's meeting of the English Club in the Girl's Day Student Room at 4:15. The prize for the best composition will be one dollar. Adelaide Ryan, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

SNAPS BY A SNIP

You are about to be engulfed in a maze of—well, just a maze. Side Glances From the Side Lines:

PUCILLOMEN LOSE IN HEATED MELEE TO KUTZTOWN CAGERS

Avalanche Comes From Behind To Take Decision By 46-40 Score

From a most bitterly-fought, nip and tuck court battle between two arch rivals, last Friday afternoon, Kutztown S. T. C. quintet finally emerged entirely satisfied with a 46 to 40 decision on their home floor over Millersville's group of basketball players.

The fray was witnessed by a capacity crowd of nearly 1400 rabid and calloused sports lovers who went wild as play became overly-tense in the latter stages of the game.

It was the second defeat suffered by the Black and Gold in its quest of the State title; however, the locals remain very much in the running for that title even though it was asserted in a summerization of the game written for a Philadelphia daily that Millersville was eliminated from the race. It must be remembered that the Berks countains were soundly beaten in the first meeting of these rivals this year.

In attempting to bring out the most exciting and outstanding incidents, it is virtually impossible to do so without reenacting the entire contest. However, the fine work of individual members of both combinations ought not go unnoticed. George Ehemann, M. S. T. C.'s all around pivot man turned in a fine exhibition in both his caging and his floor game. Time and again he used his basketball instinct to lead him to goals. He also carried off high scoring honors for the afternoon with a total of 19 points.

As usually is the case, Captain Maxie Bishop played his same versatile type of ball, along with having an "on" afternoon as far as sinking baskets. He contributed 13 markers to the score column besides playing a stellar floor game.

While Kutztown's Avalanche did not show any too much, as a team, the individual performances of the Heffner cousins was the main factor in pulling the McGovernmen out of the fray the winners. Their hair-raising one handed shots from all angles were beautiful to see. They collected 32 points between them.

But to summarize the actual playing we must return to the

SAUNTERING IN SPORTDOM

To get back to that well-hatched question as to who is the rightful claimant of the Mythical State Championship, we find that Kutztown appears to be eliminated via its defeat at the hands of Shippensburg last Saturday. After publishing the fact that they eliminated Millersville from the race (even though Millersville out-classed them down here and had a better record at that writing), it took a third decisive defeat to prove to them that they do not have a championship team this year. It seems to us that they would at least be good sports and admit defeat and refrain from having the affrontery to assert that they had eliminated the teams that really have done that thing to them.

On the other hand Millersville is very much in the running, and if successful in their remaining tests, they should gain the title. The Pucillomen must face an improved Shippensburg team and two strong western quintets, California and Indiana, before winding up their campaign. These games will decide the destiny of the Black and Gold.

And here are a few statistics for you to ponder over. Thus far the Black and Gold dribblers have the impressive record of seven victories and two defeats. They have scored a grand total of 429 points in nine games for an average of 47.7 tallies per game. Their opponents have stripped the cords for 312 markers or an average of 34.7 points per game. When one stops to think of it, our lads have quite an achievement, for we doubt that there are very many basketball aggregations in these parts with such a high average number of points per game. Dick Todd, so far, holds the record for the most points registered in a single game with a mark of 22 counters made in the Trenton game. George Ehemann is second with 19 pointers, scored in the last Kutztown game.

An enthusiastic fellow from the dormitory recently made inquiry as to whether there would be an intra-mural basketball tourney like the one held last year. It would be a fine thing if another such tournament would be formed, but that is up to the persons who are interested in it. It is just a matter of putting forth a bit of extra effort in the arrangement of the enterprise. How about it, you dorm students? It certainly ought to be plenty of fun and good exercise.

Judging from the cheering up at Kutztown last Friday, Millersville was well represented for there surely was plenty of volume to accompany Joe Wolf in his cheers. Lusty rooting would also be appreciated at home as well as abroad.

Trenton Teachers Five Crushed In Free Scoring Contest Saturday

Entire Squad Sees Action As Jersey Boys Go Under, 77-36

Returning to the win column after receiving their stinging loss at the hands of Kutztown, the Black and Gold cagers easily routed a game Trenton Teachers quintet by the amazing score of 77 to 36 last Saturday. About 200 rooters enjoyed the free shooting exhibition.

It is little doubt that this was the best performance of the Pucillomen thus far this season. Smooth teamwork and accurate caging were the outstanding factors in producing one of the highest scores ever amassed by a Millersville combination. With Ehemann and Reiff getting all the tap-offs, the locals ceaselessly counted field goals with little or no trouble.

Before the fray it was believed that the going would be tough due to the absence of Joey Wileman, Pete Edmiston, and Slim Rannels, all of whom were injured the afternoon before, while engaging in the rough and tumble game at Kutztown. However, when the game got underway it was apparent that these veterans were not needed, and after the starting five of Rees, Todd, Ehemann, Pin-cavage and Bishop piled up an early lead, the second stringers were shoved in, and the remaining regulars also enjoyed a much needed rest. At halftime Millersville held a 42 to 17 advantage.

Dick Todd, starting his first game of the season, came through in an impressive way carrying off scoring honors with 9 twin point-

MAULERS DROP SECOND MEET TO WEST YORK 21-11

Showing a decided improvement over their first performance, Coach Whitmore's grapplers gave West York's State champs a stiff tussle before succumbing, 21 to 11, last Saturday evening on the York mats.

Millersville's points came as a result of a fall and two time advantages. Irv Shelly contributed the five points when he came from under to pin Gunnett in a very interesting bout. In the 155 pound class, Whitmore substituted for Sellers, who was injured, and chalked up three more markers via a substantial time advantage over Sheffer. Another newcomer, Pendered, easily won his bout against West York's lumbering heavyweight, Forrey.

Buckwalter, Shindler, and Davy Booth all dropped their matches by falls while Hoyt and Esben-shade, also a new man, lost by time advantages. In an exhibition match, Tuffy Vermeychuck, husky M. S. T. C. footballer, fell prey to Sheppard, a West York alumnus, by a time advantage.

WILSON TEACHERS TO OPPOSE BLACK & GOLD SAT. AFTERNOON

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, Millersville's court crusaders will again take to the wooden way in quest of their second triumph over Doc White's Wilson Teachers Five.

While the Pucillomen have shown a decided improvement since their first meeting with the Southerners, which ended in Millersville's favor by a score of 51 to 27, it must be known that the Washington team is also coming along nicely and is intent on giving the locals a good run.

The Black and Gold dribblers will once again have their full strength with the return of Wileman, Rannels, and Edmiston who were not available for last week's Trenton game because of injuries. Coach Pucillo predicts a victory for his contingent, although he believes the Wilson lads will put up a game fight.

The probable starting lineups are:

| MILLERSVILLE   | WILSON           |
|----------------|------------------|
| Tood .....     | F..... Gordon    |
| Rees .....     | F..... Fishbien  |
| Ehemann .....  | C..... Fairroll  |
| Bishop .....   | G..... Southcomb |
| Edmiston ..... | G..... Thomas    |

KUTZTOWN

opening tap-off, which was Millersville's, as were a fair majority of the tap-offs throughout the game, to the credit of Ehemann and Rannels. Play was a bit sloppy during the first five minutes, but Coach Pucillo's charges gradually came into their own, and midway in the second period tied up the score at 10 all. Fighting Joe Wileman and Pete Edmiston were way off on their shooting in this quarter, but the boys managed to gather enough points to lead the Maroon and Gold, 20 to 15, at half-time.

Coach McGovern's lads opened up when play was resumed, and the Black and Gold was taxed to its utmost to eke out a tie score, 9 to 29, this by virtue of Max Bishop's brilliant over-head shots from the circle, and a long one by Wileman.

Dirt Rees enjoyed a short two-goal spree, then Kutztown's guarding, which had been too close throughout, became unbearable, and Millersville went behind 42 to 35.

With but three minutes of play remaining, Bishop and Ehemann took things in hand, and during a temporary lull in Art Heffner's activities, reduced the lead to 42 to 40. But two peep shots added 4 more points to the winner's column as the game ended.

Page Society Presents Mr. Campbell Tomorrow

To bring back more vividly the memory of the "Preserver of Our Union", Abraham Lincoln, the Page Literary Society has arranged to have Lincoln's impersonator, Mr. Willard Campbell, appear at M. S. T. C. on February 12, the birthday of the Great Emancipator. Mr. Campbell is endowed with a remarkable resemblance to the martyred President and really makes his audience feel that the genuine Lincoln has been "born again". Most likely the program will include the Gettysburg Address, the Farewell Address at Independence Hall, "O Captain, My Captain", and numerous other encomiums from great people who were inspired by Lincoln. You will be amazed at the displayed similarity between the original Lincoln and the Lincoln you will see on February 12. In fact, the immortality of this famous historical character will be brought before your mind as never before. Don't miss this excellent opportunity to see "this man Lincoln".

CHANDLER

seems more like home to him than any other place.

Before coming here, he was the head of the Department of Education at Kent State Teachers' College at Kent, Ohio, the largest college of its kind in America at that time. Some of his students have been amused at the fact that he has spoken so highly of this Ohio College—a characteristic that he will no doubt carry to Clarion, where he will probably be telling Clarion people what a great place Millersville is. At the present time, he has no idea when he will move, because the matter of securing a substitute has to be first passed upon by the State Department of Education and the College at Millersville. He says he has a great many ideas and aspirations for Clarion, but he doesn't want to tell them before he first tries them out.

Highway Signs Being Designed Under N. Y. A.

In the near future, highway signs designed by N. Y. A. students of the Industrial Arts Department, will point the way to Millersville. This project is being sponsored by the Lions Club, but the work is being done by our N. Y. A. students.

Among other Industrial Arts projects are an oak filing cabinet to keep records of Industrial Arts graduates. For use in the wood-working class there is a bibliography being compiled, and a kit for filing wood and metal samples.

Several N. Y. A. students here at M. S. T. C. are doing much to further the cause and glorify local geography. All who enter the Junior High Training School are impressed by a series of profiles, while on this side of the street profiles are made of streams, roads, and houses of the Lancaster quadrangle.

By investigation, N. Y. A. students have found that the elevation of the Lancaster quadrangle is 450 feet.

TRENTON

ers and 4 fouls for 22 points. Dirt Rees followed closely behind with 17 markers, and Ehemann and Bishop although only playing a short time, garnered 11 and 9 points respectively.

But, in spite of this overwhelming score, the Blue and Gold boys are not to be overlooked. They presented a fast passing team which seemed to lack only a tall pivot man. Because of this they had to work twice as hard to get possession of the ball. Olinsky, stocky guard, thrilled the crowd with his deadly long shots and accounted for 13 of his team's points.

After the tussle, the Trenton head coach consented to comparing our club with Kutztown's courtsters, since his squad met the Berks countains and lost by only 4 points. He says, "I am certain that Coach Pucillo has one of the smoothest combinations in state teachers college circles and even in this entire region. He has a group of basketball minded boys to work with; he has the height, a very essential factor; and he has plenty of reserve material. From my observations Millersville is 10 to 15 points better than Jimmy MacGovern's outfit. However that does not mean that Kutztown does not have a good team. It merely means that Millersville is a better one. I also think that Bishop, Ehemann, and the Heffner boys are some of the most deadly shots in college circles. Put them all on the same team and no one could touch them."

In the preliminary game the Millersville Jay Vees easily downed the South End Profs, 35-25.

Contemplate Change In Commencement Concert

There may be a change in the Commencement Concert this year for Mr. Porter is contemplating giving a Band Concert of classical music. Heretofore the Concert has always been given by the Chapel Choir, but because of the heavy schedule arranged for the Choir with the presentation of the opera and the preparation for Vesper services. Mr. Porter feels that this would offer an opportunity to introduce the Band as a new feature.

Primary Club Elects

Catherine Liggett was elected vice president of the Primary Club at the mid year election to succeed Amy Herr, who served in that capacity last semester. Other nominees for the election were June Hartranft, Dorothy Dick, and Alta Slauch.

Margaret Herr, Bertha Neff, and Mary Butts will continue to fill the offices of president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

To Whom It May Concern!

A new article "The Date Book" will appear in the Snapper if you will cooperate with me. If you are an officer of any club about campus and you wish to have the time and place of your meeting calendered weekly—will you please give me the information before Saturday morning of this week? The date will be printed weekly to keep all members well-informed about their engagements. Please sign your names to the slips, tell when and where, and give them to
